In Switzerland, these financial instruments are considered structured products. They are not collective investment schemes within the meaning of the Swiss Federal Act on Collective Investment Schemes (CISA), and are therefore not subject to the regulations of the CISA or the supervision of the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA. The investors bear the Issuer's credit risk.

Product Description

With Short Mini Futures the investor sets upon decreasing prices of the Underlying. They allow for overproportionate (leveraged) participation in each performance of the Underlying. Accordingly, they can be used for speculation or hedging purposes. Mini Futures feature a Stop-Loss Level below the Financing Level. The Financing Level is adjusted daily, the Stop-Loss Level is adjusted at least once a month. If the price of the Underlying reaches or exceeds this level during the Observation Period (Stop-Loss Event), the Short Mini Futures expire immediately and are basically redeemed at the then realizable market value. These Mini Futures do not have a fixed maturity (open end), but they may be exercised as from the First Exercise Date (american option). If no Stop-Loss Event occurred, the investor receives a Repayment Amount after five Bank Business Days in case of effective exercise (or in case of termination by the Issuer) which - taking into account the Ratio - corresponds to the amount by which the Relevant Valuation Price falls below the Financing Level on the Exercise Date.

Cotton Future (further details on the Underlying see below)
Roll-over months shall be March, May, July, December.

Rounding of Financing Level 0.0001
Rounding of Stop-loss level 0.0001

Exercise right / Repayment amount
The owner is entitled to exercise his Mini Futures from the First exercise day based on applicable conditions and barring the occurrence of a Stop-Loss Event on this day and on any following bank working day, or to demand payment of a corresponding Redemption amount. All key details about the exercise terms may be found in the issue programme.

Exercise period / Exercise declaration
The exercise declaration must arrive at the Exercise agent by 11:00 am (Swiss Time) in the event of exercise requests arriving later or after the determination of the relevant valuation price on the Reference exchange, the next bank working day is deemed to be the exercise day.

Issuer’s call right
The Issuer is entitled to terminate unexercised Mini Future on any bank working day, but no sooner than three months after Payment date.

Observation Period
Each trading day on the Underlying’s Reference Exchange as from the Initial Fixing (inclusive)

Stop-loss event
A stop-loss event occurs when the value of the relevant Underlying of the Mini-Futures touches or exceeds the Current stop-loss level within the Observation period and during the Underlying’s trading hours, at which the Mini-Futures are automatically exercised and become invalid.

Stop-Loss liquidation price
A price for the Underlying determined by the Calculation Agent, which is derived from a value for the relevant Underlying within a period of one hour during the Underlying’s trading hours after the stop-loss event has occurred. If a stop-loss event occurs less than one hour before the end of a trading hour, the period is then carried over to the next exchange trading day.

Redemption amount
For each Mini-Future exercised or terminated, the following amount is paid back to the investor in the reference currency:

\text{max}(0; (\text{current financing level} - \text{final fixing price}) \div \text{ratio}) \times \text{FX}

Where:
FX is the current Interbank conversion rate of the trading currency of the underlying into the reference currency.

The value achieved when calculating the redemption amount is rounded up and off, respectively, to two decimal points.

Final fixing price
The final fixing price is equal to the relevant valuation price on the valuation date in case of (a) an exercise by the holder of the Mini-Future or (b) a termination by the issuer, whereas in case (c) a stop-loss event occurs, the final fixing price is equal to the stop-loss liquidation price.

Relevant valuation price
Settlement Price determined by the Reference Exchange

Current Financing Level
The current financing level of the Mini-Future is adjusted by the Calculation Agent at the end of each adjustment day in accordance with the following formula:

FL_n = FL_a - \frac{(FS) \cdot FL_a \cdot n}{360}

where:
FL_a: Financing level following the adjustment = Current Financing level.
FL_n: Financing level before the adjustment.
FS: Current financing spread n: number of calendar days between the current Adjustment Date (exclusive) and the next Adjustment Date (inclusive).

The result of the calculation shall be rounded downwards to the next multiple of the rounding of the financing level.

Current underlying
From the date of initial fixing until the underlying’s first roll-over day upon initial fixing. This underlying loses its validity on the first roll-over day and is then replaced by the underlying falling due in the following roll-over month on the reference exchange. On each subsequent roll-over day, the current underlying is correspondingly replaced by the underlying which falls due on the reference exchange during the following roll-over month.

Roll-over day
In each case, the roll-over day takes place on a trading day, determined at the discretion of the Calculation Agent, which falls in a period starting 10 trading days before the last trading day of the current underlying on the futures exchange. If the first notice day of the current underlying is before its last trading day, the period for the roll-over day begins 10 trading days before the first notice day and ends on the last trading day of the current underlying.

Current financing level after roll-over
In addition, the current financing level is adjusted on each roll-over day. The adjustment is made directly after the adjustment of the current financing level defined above and is carried out in accordance with the following formula:

FL_{ns} = FL_n - RORP_{d_a} + RORP_{n}

where:
FL_{ns}: Current financing level after Rollover
FL_n: Current financing level before Rollover
RORP_{d_a}: Rollover Reference Price for the Current Underlying before Rollover
RORP: Rollover Reference Price for the Current Underlying after Rollover

Roll-over reference price
At his own discretion, the Calculation Agent determines the roll-over benchmark price on each roll-over day, based on the prices of the current underlying as traded and published on the Reference exchange and within one hour before and including the time at which the official settlement price for the current Underlying is determined.

Adjustment day for Stop-loss level
The First adjustment day of each month and each ex-dividend day of the Underlying. If the Calculation Agent deems it necessary, at its own discretion an adjustment may be made on each Adjustment day.

Current financing spread
The Current financing spread is fixed by the Calculation Agent at its own discretion within a range of between zero and the Maximum financing spread on each Adjustment day.

Current Stop-loss buffer
A buffer within the range of between zero and the Maximum stop-loss buffer determined by the Calculation Agent on each Adjustment day for the Stop-loss level.

Current stop-loss level
A value determined on each Adjustment day for the Stop-loss level by the Calculation Agent after adjustment of the Current financing level, according to the following formula and rounded off to the next multiple of the rounded Stop-loss level:

Current financing level * (100% - Current stop-loss buffer)

Description of the Underlying

Cotton Future

The Cotton Future is a standardized futures contract transaction on predefined types of cotton. For the Nearest Cotton Future, during its term this product uses as underlying instrument the Cotton Future that is next up to expire or whose settlement or expiry date is nearest. For this reason, so-called roll-overs are regularly needed during the term of this product. They are carried out at intervals determined at the discretion of the paying and calculation agent; the discretion of the paying and calculation agent should be orientated towards applicable market practice in so far as possible. On the occasion of such roll-overs, a current Cotton Future is replaced by a new Cotton Future which has the same or comparable contract specifications with the exception of the later future maturity.

Prospects of Profit and Losses

Short Mini-Futures provide the opportunity to benefit overproportionally from a negative performance of the underlying. The maximum potential profit is, however, limited and reached when the price of the underlying drops to zero. The potential loss is limited to the amount of capital invested.

Price changes of the underlying may have an overproportionate impact on the value of the product due to the leverage effect. There is a possible profit from the positive difference between the sales price achieved or repayment amount and the issue or purchase price paid. The redemption amount receivable in the event of any exercise of the Mini-Future depends on the figure by which the final fixing price falls below of the current financing level. Short Mini-Futures do not yield current income. As a rule, they lose value if there is no price loss in the underlying. Accordingly, Short Mini-Futures lose value under certain conditions even if the price of the underlying remains stable.

Mini-Futures have no set maturity but immediately become worthless when the stop-loss level is reached and as a rule are redeemed at their then achievable market value. The stop-loss level is adjusted periodically. The risk for an investment in Mini-Futures is based not only on the leverage effect but also on the danger of a stop-loss level event occurring, which is significantly greater than it would be for a direct investment.

Significant Risks for Investors

Currency risks

If the Underlying or Underlyings is/are denominated in a currency other than the product’s Reference Currency, investors should bear in mind that this may involve risks due to fluctuating exchange rates and that the risk of loss does not only depend on the performance of the Underlying(s) but also on any unfavourable performance of the other currency or currencies. This does not apply for currency-hedged products (quanto structure).

Market risks

The general market performance of securities is dependent in particular on the development of the capital markets which, for their part, are influenced by the general global economic situation as well as by the economic and political framework conditions in the respective countries (so-called market risk). Changes to market prices such as interest rates, commodity prices or corresponding volatilities may have a negative effect on the valuation of the Underlying(s) or the Structured Product.

Disruption risks

There is also the risk of market disruptions (such as trading or stock market interruptions or discontinuation of trading) or other unforeseeable occurrences concerning the respective Underlyings and/or their stock exchanges or markets taking place during the term or upon maturity of the Structured Products. Such occurrences can have an effect on the time of redemption and/or on the value of the Structured Products. In the event of trading restrictions, sanctions and similar occurrences, the Issuer is entitled, for the purpose of calculating the value of the Structured Product, to include at its own discretion the Underlying instruments at their most recently traded price, at a fair value to be established at its sole discretion or indeed as worthless, and/or additionally to suspend pricing in the Structured Product or liquidate the Structured Product prematurely.

Secondary market risks

Under normal market conditions, the Issuer or the Lead Manager intend to post bid- and ask-prices on a regular basis. However, neither the Issuer nor the Lead Manager is under any obligation with respect to investors to provide such bid- and ask-prices for specific order or securities volumes, and there is no guarantee of a specific liquidity or of a specific spread (i.e. the difference between bid- and ask-prices), for which reason investors cannot rely on being able to purchase or sell the Structured Products on a specific date or at a specific price.

Issuer risk

The value of Structured Products may depend not only on the performance of the Underlying(s), but also on the creditworthiness of the Issuer, which may change during the term of the Structured Product. The investor is exposed to the risk of default of the Issuer. For further information on the rating of Bank Vontobel AG, please see the Issuance Program.

Risks relating to potential conflicts of interest

There may be conflicts of interest at the Vontobel Group companies that could have a negative impact on the value of the Structured Products. For example, Vontobel Group companies may enter into or participate in trading and hedging transactions relating to the Underlying. They may also perform other functions relating to the Structured Products (e.g. as Calculation Agent, Index Sponsor and/or Market Maker) which enable them to determine the composition of the Underlying or calculate its value. Vontobel Group companies may also receive non-public information relating to the Underlying. It should also be noted that the payment of distribution fees and other commissions to financial intermediaries could result in conflicts of interest to the detriment of the investor, as this could create an incentive for the financial intermediary to distribute products with a higher commission preferentially to its clients. As market maker, Vontobel Group companies can determine the price of Structured Products to a large extent and determine it on the basis of various factors and earnings considerations.
Please also note the further, detailed description of potential conflicts of interest and their impact on the value of the Structured Products as contained in the Issuance Program.
