Swiss Taxation Treatment

The following summary on Swiss Taxation does not purport to address all tax consequences of the Securities and is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, tax advice. This summary does not address any tax consequences of an investment in the Securities in any other jurisdiction than Switzerland. Since this summary does not consider the specific tax situation of an investor, prospective investors are advised to consult their personal tax advisors as to the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership, sale or redemption of the Securities including, in particular, the effect of tax laws of any other jurisdiction.

Swiss Income Tax (Federal Direct Tax) Please note that the following information about Swiss income tax is only applicable for private investors with tax domicile in Switzerland, holding the Securities as part of their private assets from a Swiss tax perspective (Swiss resident private investors):

The Securities with an initial leverage of at least 4 are considered as future contracts for Swiss tax purposes. Any gain/return realized with such futures during the term of the Securities or at redemption should qualify as tax exempt capital gains for private investors. The Swiss tax treatment of Securities with initial leverage smaller than 4 at issuance is depending on the term of such Securities as such Securities are considered as "false" future contracts. If the term is maximum 365 calendar days, no interest component is subject to income tax based on the current Swiss tax practice. However, if the term of such Securities is more than 365 calendar days or an unlimited term, an interest component For "false" future contracts with a term of more than 12 months, the interest component is subject to Federal Direct Tax at the time of a Knock-out-Event or at Redemption. The amount of the interest component will be assessed by the Swiss tax administration based on a market-conform interest.

The tax treatment regarding cantonal and communal income taxes might differ from the tax treatment regarding the Federal Direct Tax. However, in general the tax treatments should correspond.

Swiss Withholding Tax The Securities are not subject to Swiss Withholding Tax.

Swiss Stamp Duty Secondary market transactions of futures (see "Swiss Income Tax") are in general not subject to Swiss Securities Transfer Tax ("Umsatzabgabe"). The Swiss stamp tax treatment of "false" future contracts (= Securities with initial leverage less than 4) is depending on the term of such Securities. If the term is maximum 365 calendar days, secondary market transactions are in general not subject to Swiss Securities Transfer Tax. However, secondary market transactions of "false" future contracts with a term of more than 365 calendar days or an unlimited term are in general subject to Swiss Securities Transfer Tax.

Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters ("Automatischer Informationsaustausch") Switzerland agreed with various countries and the European Union to implement the Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters ("AEOI") as of 1st January 2017 and is negotiating the introduction of the AEOI with further countries whereby the Automatic Exchange of Information has been and will be extended to other countries. The website "www.sif.admin.ch" provides an overview of all partner states Switzerland has signed an agreement for the introduction of the AEOI. In this context the EU Savings Tax for Swiss paying agents and the Final Withholding Tax with UK and Austria have been repealed as from 1st January 2017.

Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 Transactions and payments related to this Security may be subject to additional (foreign) transaction taxes duties and or withholding taxes in particular a withholding tax pursuant to the Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code. All payments from this Security will occur with any applicable taxes and duties deducted. The Issuer is not obliged to pay additional amounts with regard to amounts so withheld. Please refer to the Security Documentation for detailed information.

This summary of the tax treatment applies at Issue Date and reflects the Issuer's understanding of current law and practice in Switzerland relating to the taxation of the securities. The relevant tax laws and/or regulations and practice of the tax authorities may change at any time, possibly with retroactive effect. Any investor shall be liable for all current and futures taxes and duties resulting from an investment in the Securities. The Issuer hereby expressly excludes any liabilities in respect of any tax implications arising thereof.

IV. Significant risks for investors

The description of the risks set out below only mentions some risks that the Issuer considers to be the major risks as of the date hereof.

Structured Products such as the Securities described in this document are complex and may involve a high risk of loss. Prior to investing in the product, investors should seek independent financial, tax, accounting and legal advise.

Product-specific risks

In addition to the risks set out in section II. (Profit and Loss Prospects), the following risks apply:

Investors are not entitled to receive any dividends paid on the Underlying and the terms and conditions of the Securities will only be adjusted for distributions and other corporate actions relating to the Underlying in certain limited circumstances.

The investor bears the risk that the Redemption Amount is below the purchase price of the Security. The higher the Reference Price of the Underlying on the Valuation Date, the greater the loss. If during the period from and including the Issue date to and including the Valuation Date a price of the Underlying is at least once equal to or above the Knock-out Barrier, the Securities shall expire worthless. The investor will incur a loss that will correspond to the full purchase price paid for the Security (total loss).

In addition, the investor bears a currency exchange risk as the amounts that are not expressed in the Issue Currency will be converted at the currency exchange rate on the Valuation Date.

In addition to the product-specific risks highlighted above, investors are exposed to the market risk and other risks related to the Underlying. Consequently, investors must independently inform themselves about and assess such risks and they have to form their own view on the expected development of the Underlying.

Volatile secondary markets and limited liquidity

Investors should expect that market prices for the Securities will be volatile, depending upon the development of the price of the Underlying, interest rates, remaining term of the Securities and other factors.

Liquidity of the Securities and/or the Underlying in the secondary markets may be limited. There is no obligation of the Issuer or the Lead manager to make a market in the security. There can be no assurance that a secondary market will develop for the security or that it will subsist.

The price at which the Security may be sold in the secondary market may be less than the intrinsic value of the security and less than the amount originally invested. It may be possible that the Security cannot be sold at all in the secondary market.

Deviation of Issue Price from market value

The Issue Price may be more than the market value of the securities on the Issue Date and the price, if any, at which any person may be willing to purchase this Security in a secondary market transaction may be lower than the Issue Price. In particular, the Issue Price may take into account commissions in relation to the issue and sale of this Security as well as costs in relation to the hedging of the Issuer's obligations under this Security, and secondary market prices are likely to exclude such amounts.

Limited Recourse, Bail-in

Recourse limited to the Guarantor: By investing in the Securities, investors acknowledge that they shall have no recourse against the Issuer in the event of a payment default by the Issuer with respect to any amount due under the Securities, i.e. no investor has the right to institute any proceeding or to otherwise assert a claim against the Issuer to enforce the relevant payment under the Securities. However, this is without prejudice to the investors' rights under the guarantee of the Guarantor.

Bail-in: The Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive (BRRD) provides "Resolution Authorities" across the European Union with a comprehensive set of tools to deal with failing European financial institutions by using amongst other things the "bail-in". If the Issuer and/or the Guarantor becomes subject to resolution measures in the form of bail-in, investor's claim may be reduced to zero, converted into equity or its maturity may be postponed. This may result in losses on the invested amount.

Such hedging activities may negatively affect the value of the Underlyings and thus the value of the Securities and the redemption amount of the Securities respectively. This is particularly true in case of the dissolution of a hedge close to maturity of the Securities.
